UWG Online's Distance and Distributed Education Center helps support online, hybrid, and on-campus faculty and students, regardless of their physical location. Our staff is dedicated to helping all students succeed, with an emphasis on support for distance learning technologies and services, as well as enabling faculty to focus on teaching rather than technology. This Student Services Guide provides a convenient list of student resources available to all students, including resident, commuter, and online students, and how each resource can be accessed. A web-friendly version of this info is available at http://uwgonline.westga.edu/online-student-guide.php.

<th>Testing and Evaluation</th>
<th>All students benefit from the testing services of the Academic Testing Services at the University of West Georgia. The Academic Testing Services provide departmental, institutional, and national testing opportunities to students and non-students in an atmosphere which enables examinees to perform to the best of their abilities. This atmosphere relies on test administration practices which (1) adhere to nationally recognized professional testing standards and government regulations, (2) maintain the integrity of the testing process by incorporating ethical standards and security measures, and (3) treat all examinees in a professional yet personable manner. The UWG Academic Testing Office adheres to the Standards and Guidelines of the National College Testing Association. Students can arrange services by calling or emailing the testing Office. The Academic Testing Office provides a variety of test registration materials and also administers a series of national and institutional exams. The Academic Testing Office also provides a supervised environment for students with documented physical and/or learning disabilities that are eligible to receive accommodations, such as extended time for their classroom tests. | Advising | The Advising Center has academic advisors who help students explore various options and help them choose a major best suited for them. Advisement Center staff members are available by appointment, phone and email, for advisement (678-839-6280, advisingcenter-list@westga.edu).

The Advising Center Offers: (1) information about advising and registration; (2) access to tools that put you in the driver’s seat; (3) course recommendations to keep students on track for graduation; (4) the fastest graduation date possible.

For those who have declared a major, the Advisement Center provides a guide, click on the following link and look for “Who is My Advisor”: www.westga.edu/advising

In addition to the Advisement Center there are professional academic advisors in The College of Education ([http://www.westga.edu/coe advisement/](http://www.westga.edu/coe advisement/)), Richards College of Business (http://www.westga.edu/business/rssc.php) and Tanner Health System School of Nursing (http://nursing.westga.edu/281_354.php). These advisement centers: provide intensive advising support through regular contact with their students.

| Same as F2F with the following addition: |

Since 2008, real-time online services have been made available to facilitate virtual advisement via instant-messaging and online collaborative tools. Faculty and departments advise distance and off-campus students online via email, web-conferencing, and by telephone. Students can also receive advising from faculty and full-time advisors at our off-campus locations, at specified times.

As of Fall 2012, courses are provided within our online learning management system (CourseDen D2L) for advising based on at-risk situations or majors.

eCore:

While online eCore students are still directed to consult with an advisor in their program of study or the Advising Center, eCore students are also assigned eCore Liaisons. They are knowledgeable about all issues associated with admissions, registration, student services, and success in the eCore program. The eCore Liaisons and central eCore Student Success Manager and accompanying Student Success Team members contact the online eCore students frequently via Google groups, with tidbits of helpful information and reminders. The eCore Student Success Team also takes at-risk reports from all eCore instructors and follow-up with at-risk students by email, phone, or text.

Career Guidance

Career Services offers a host of services for all students through its online Career Web at http://www.westga.edu/careerservices/.

Career Web lists both on-campus and off-campus Job Fairs on the web site.

Career Services also offers an online service for mock interviews through InterviewStream and an online career library through Vault.

InterviewStream will record student interviews that they can send to Career Services for evaluation or use the recordings for a self-evaluation. The Vault has information on a multitude of careers for students to research. Students may access both InterviewStream and Vault on the Career Services Website by clicking on “Students.”

Career Services offers: Career Counseling, Student Employment, Job/Internship Search and Career Development to all students.

Contact Career Services at 678-839-6431 or careers@westga.edu for more information.

Tutoring, Learning Support & Training

The Center for Academic Success (CAS) provides services, programs, and opportunities to help all undergraduate students succeed academically. CAS offers free appointment-based peer tutoring in core courses, as well as supplemental instruction (SI)—which is peer-facilitated collaborative learning—in a variety of disciplines. Students seeking help with study skills and strategies can attend workshops though the Academic Success Workshop series, or work individually with either a staff or peer Academic Coach. Beginning Fall 2014, the CAS will also offer “Back on Track,” a voluntary academic recovery program designed for students who want to improve their grades and academic standing.

CAS offers:
- Academic Coaching - Academic coaches, peers and professionals, can assist you with any challenges you may face as you transition into college, as well

Same as F2F with the following additions:

SI is offered in several UWG|Online courses.
Faculty members hold online office hours in order to offer additional support to their distance and off-campus students. CourseDen (D2L), Blackboard Collaborate, Blackboard IM, Google Hangout, and other distance education technologies have provided effective ways for faculty to provide learning support.

If there are special requirements that students need at off-campus sites, arrangements are made for personnel from the main campus to be available on site. This is in addition to the regularly-scheduled office hours that faculty provide at off-campus locations.

The Distance and Distributed Education Center provides many levels of support, including support and services for academic support. Smarthinking, an online embedded tutoring and writing service, is provided for as the obstacles you may encounter as you enter your second year. Including: Study skills, time management, test taking, learning styles.

Peer Tutoring - One-on-one tutoring in all core curriculum courses and Some major specific courses in accounting, biology, chemistry and math.

Supplemental Instruction (SI) - provides conveniently scheduled study sessions led by a trained student leader who has already made an A in difficult courses. SI leaders use engaging activities to help you understand and retain difficult course material.

For computer training: the CAS has several tutors with specific skill in tutoring for CS 1000 (Practical Computing), CS 1020 (Computers and Society), and CS 1030 (Intro to Computer Concepts) who’d be able to offer computer literacy support.

Additionally, any of the CAS tutors are trained to meet their student “tutees” where they are in any of their current soft-skil proficiency level (reading, language, computer literacy, etc.). All CAS’s tutors are computer proficient at least at the basic use level and would be able to infuse tutoring sessions with computer literacy techniques should a student need or desire that assistance.

The Center for Academic Success is located in UCC 200, and can be reached at 678-839-6280. They offered extended hours throughout the semester.

The ODDLS coordinates with UWG Online for assessment of student library services, and UWG Online Student Evaluations include two questions related to whether students are aware of such library services and whether students make use of them http://www.westga.edu/~distance/data/eval/.

Links to the library’s DL services are included on each CourseDen (D2L) course home page and on the syllabi for all distance courses. The library employs a full-time individual dedicated to supporting distance and off-campus learning students.

All students receive an announcement, via CourseDen/D2L, with the Galileo username and password each semester, as well as information on how to access the Online Library Learning Center http://www.usg.edu/galileo/skills/.

eCore

Library resources for eCore Students are also provided in the course resource folder inside each eCore course, is posted under “Campus Announcements” inside GoView, and in the Distant Education’s Student Guide and orientation resources.

A LIBR 1101 class is taught each semester in Newnan, and this instructor provides additional research workshops for any interested students one day per week.

Access to Software, Technology Tools, and Services

Most required software that may be used is either free or provided by the University of West Georgia to students directly or made available in campus labs, except in highly-specialized content areas.

Students may download software from Software Resources & Services (SRS) for free or at discounted rates using their UWG email account credentials at the following site http://personal.srs.usg.edu/Personal_2/Student-Media_2.

The list of additional free software provided to all UWG students, includes but is not limited to: the latest version of the Microsoft Office Suite, the latest Windows OS, the latest Mac OS, and virus protection. File transfer software, and numerous task-specific applications are available both in on-campus labs, the Newnan Center.

The university provides students with a UWG ID account, this account grants access to campus email (including calendar and Google Apps via Gmail.com), myUWG, CourseDen, the ConnectWest Wireless Network, Parking Services,

Same as F2F with the following additions:

Minimum Technology Requirements

A computer with audio capabilities, an internet connection, and a D2L (CourseDen) compatible browser is the only hardware necessary to support appropriate interactions. Additional technology requirements can be found at https://uwgonline.westga.edu/technology-requirements.php.

CourseDen and any other distance education supplemental software that a specific instructor may wish to use is provided freely to all students, faculty, and administrators.

So that off-campus and online students may have access to the same software applications available in on-campus computer labs, a virtual lab server is provided.

Smaththinking (online tutoring) and a dedicated streaming video server are currently also available specifically for all online students. and the Campus Virtual Private Network (VPN). The university also provides students with free personal web space.

Many asynchronous and synchronous distance education technologies are available for use to enhance on-campus courses or deliver instruction. The primary tool used for this purpose is our course management system (Course Den/D2L), which includes, but is not limited to, discussion boards, email, and various types of online assessments.

A variety of additional distance education supplemental software, tools, and services are available freely to all instructors, students, and administrators: Wimba Classroom (live and archived audio, video, texting, polling, assessments, application sharing), Wimba Voice Tools (asynchronous audio podcasts and emails, threaded audio/text discussion boards), Respondus Lock Down (a custom browser that locks down the testing environment), Wikispaces (for online collaboration), CourseEval (online surveys), and online presentation tools such as Impatica, Camtasia, Respondus Studymate (interactive flash modules), and Quiz Creator.

In addition to video streaming and podcast servers that supports mobile formats, UWG has recently added Wimba Pronto. Wimba Pronto is an instant communication platform designed for educators to advance and promote collaborative learning in an environment that integrates seamlessly with our course management system. Pronto includes unique features to specifically benefit students, teachers, and educational institutions including audio and video conferencing, instant messaging, app sharing, whiteboard, tutoring, office hours, and instant access to campus services. Additional free software, services, and tools may also be made available, to suit the specific need of the users involved.

Atomic Learning’s Suite of online tutorials is available for all UWG students, with a wealth of technology topics. http://www.atomiclearning.com/

Newnan Center:

Newnan students have the same access to technology as students on the main campus. A Student Information Technology Services (SITS) lab provides free computer services to students. UWG Newnan Academic Affairs department staff members and student SITS workers assist both faculty and students with computers, copiers, printers, online testing preparation, AV equipment, and other special instructional technologies. Some equipment is available for check-out by students. Students also have access to the wireless network. A newnanit-list@westga.edu email account allows faculty to submit IT requests. Faculty and student listservs and a Facebook account have improved communication among staff, faculty, and students.

Technology Support/ After-hours Support

For just-in-time help, both students and faculty can work with the UWG Distance Ed Helpline (678-839-6248) or Information Technology Services (678-839-6587) via phone, email, web-based application-sharing, or instant messaging, during normal campus business hours.

The UWG Online Helpline assists with the CourseDen course management system and related distance technologies, while Information Technology Services assists with more general network connectivity (wired and wireless), campus email, face to face classroom technologies, password resets, and our student information system (Banweb).

Same as F2F.

In addition, eCore students can also receive technical assistance through the eCore Helpdesk, available Monday – Friday, 8:00 AM – 5:00 PM EST, by calling 678-839-5300 or emailing ecore@westga.edu.

Newnan Center:

At the Newnan Center a Student Information Technology Services (SITS) lab provides free computer service to students. UWG Newnan Academic Affairs department staff members and student SITS workers assist both faculty and students with computers, online testing preparation, AV equipment, and other special instructional technologies.
Student Information Technology Services (SITS) is also available to students who need assistance with their personal computers. For more information visit http://www.westga.edu/sits/.

In addition, the University System of Georgia’s Board of Regents provides 24-hour/365 CourseDen/ D2L support via an online searchable database and live toll-free phone or instant messaging (https://D2Lhelp.view.usg.edu).

As part of our annual contract, support for Wimba tools is also available via email, a toll-free phone number, and the web (http://www.wimba.com/services/support).

The main UWG campus has a Commuter Lounge for commuter students that offers: couches, games, printers, refrigerators, microwaves, access to WiFi and offers activities throughout the semester. A study/computer lounge for commuter students is located in UCC 201. ECore students have a Blog: http://planetecore.blogspot.com/. UWG Online has a strong physical presence on Facebook, Twitter (@UWGonline), LinkedIn, Blogs, and YouTube. Newnan Center: Through the support of the Vice President's Student Affairs and Enrollment Management Office, Carrollton and Newnan administration, along with community partners, Newnan Center students are now provided the ultimate university experience by offering student life activities, events, leadership experiences, community services, all while promoting campus life, academic excellence and student success. Newnan Center students are also made aware of all student activities which occur on the main campus and are encouraged to participate when possible. A Newnan Center website and social media pages for both the Newnan Center and Newnan Student Services provide timely information.</td>

services for the community in special education, counseling, communication sciences and disorders, mathematics, and language and literacy. They are an educational training facility for undergraduate and graduate students to apply the skills and knowledge they gain during their academic studies in a highly supervised clinical environment. The Clinic offers fee-based ADD/HD screening for UWG students. Students who wish to undergo the screening must contact the clinic at 678-839-6145 or ccc@westga.edu

Adult Learners:
UWG offers several online programs to meet the needs of busy adult learners as they pursue their educational goals or make the transition into a different career. However, sometimes returning to school takes a little extra support. In addition to UWG’s Center for Adult Learners and Veterans (link to http://www.westga.edu/calv/index.php), some of the resources we offer to adult learners include:

- Tutoring
- Knowledgeable advisors
- Prior Learning Assessment
  (link to http://www.westga.edu/registrar/461.php)
- Flexible classes - Online, evening, short sessions

Some of our flexible undergraduate and graduate degrees available to busy adult learners are in areas such as:
- Business
- Criminology
- Computer Science
- Education
- Sociology
  more... (link to http://uwgonline.westga.edu)

The ADD/HD screening is a two-step process. Step one involves a remote/online evaluation, but if the student is recommended for step two of the process, step two has to be done in person on the UWG campus. Please note: The evaluation in step one can only be used by the Comprehensive Community Clinic and cannot be forwarded to an external physician or clinic.

Shuttle services to and from UWG and the Newnan Center are available Monday through Friday. https://www.westga.edu/campus-life/parking/assets-parking/docs/newnanrevised.pdf

The Newnan Office of Student Services’ Student Development Specialist refers adult learners, veterans and dependents of veterans to the Center for Adult Learners and Veterans for assistance.

NOTE: Some of our UWG students take at least one or more courses on campus, in addition to their online courses. As a result, these hybrid students have access to both the on-campus services, in addition to the ones available through online.
